

The Empira Group is an investment house with high real estate expertise in German-speaking Europe. With a proactive and results-oriented team of real estate experts, our constant goal is to create sustainable value for our institutional investors with innovative investment solutions.

In order to further secure our growth strategy, we are looking for a committed personality for our new office in Miami as

Head of Investments

Your tasks

- Planning, setup and development of an Empira US subsidiary
- Development and expansion as well as constant maintenance of a resilient network of suitable acquisition contacts
- Analysis of the US real estate market and recommendation of strategically suitable investment properties
- Development of an acquisition strategy and operational implementation
- Ensuring optimal support for our head office in Zug, Switzerland and our fund company in Luxembourg
- Primary focus on residential and office
- Ensuring the active and positive positioning of the Empira brand within the us market

Your qualifications

- At least 10 years experience of professional experience in the field of residential acquisitions in us market
- Master degree or higher
- Excellent contact network and reliable track record
- Experience in the real estate sector
- High affinity to capital and financial market topics
- Strong communication skills, exceptional commitment and team spirit
- Ability to work independently and willingness to travel
- Proficient English and advanced German skills

What we offer

- Young, dynamically growing company with flat hierarchies
- A wide range of creative opportunities
- Committed and motivated team
- Opportunities for further training and development
- Performance-related remuneration

Please send your complete application documents including your salary expectations and possible starting date by e-mail to karriere@empira.ch.

Empira AG
Mr. Ramón Weidauer, +41 41 728 75 76

We are looking forward to your application!